I Don't Belong – Imposter Syndrome in the Legal Profession

Presented by -Brian S. Quinn, Esq. – Education and Outreach Coordinator, LCL of PA, Inc.

Brian S. Quinn, Esquire is a licensed attorney in Pennsylvania who currently serves as the Education and Outreach Coordinator for Lawyers Concerned for Lawyers of Pennsylvania, Inc., a Lawyers Assistance Program established in 1988 for the purpose of helping lawyers, judges and law students recover from alcoholism, drug addiction and mental health disorders.

Mr. Quinn obtained his undergraduate degree in 1970, his law degree in 1973 and a certificate in Drug and Alcohol counselling in 2012, from Villanova University. Prior to his work with Lawyers Concerned for Lawyers, he was a private practitioner for over 40 years and has also worked in the field of alcohol and drug counseling in suburban Philadelphia.

Mr. Quinn is a past member of the Board of Directors of Lawyers Concerned for Lawyers of Pennsylvania and served as a peer volunteer prior to accepting his current role as the organization's Educator in 2017. He has written and presented on lawyer wellness topics to law firms, Bar Associations and legal education providers for state, national and international groups as well.

What Is LCL ?

Our mission:

To provide a caring peer assistance program to save the lives and restore the health and professional competence of lawyers and judges, members of their families, and law students who are at risk as a result of alcohol and drug use, gambling, depression or other serious mental illness. We carry out this mission through a combination of confidential helpline services, volunteer support and education.

- Free information and literature

CONSULT THE ETHICAL RULES IN YOUR STATE
ALL LAWYERS ASSISTANCE PROGRAMS ARE NOT THE SAME !!

- Although many Lawyers Assistance Programs may follow the same practices as LCL of PA, it is always advisable to consult the Rules of Professional Conduct and the Judicial Code of your jurisdiction in order to ascertain the rules governing the duty to report misconduct imposed on both lawyers and judges, especially if there may be a connection to the misconduct and impairment as a result of alcohol, substance use or mental health issues.

Guidance From the Court

PA Rules of Professional Conduct address that concern by providing an exception to the duty to report: The Rules may not require disclosure of information otherwise protected or information gained by a lawyer or judge while participating in an approved lawyers assistance program. See PA Rule 8.3(c)

Comment 7: “... providing for an exception ... encourages lawyers and judges to seek treatment through such a program. Conversely, without such an exception, lawyers and judges may hesitate to seek assistance from these programs, which may then result in additional harm to their professional careers and additional injury to the welfare of clients and to the public.” (emphasis added)

What Is Imposter Syndrome ?

Impostor phenomenon occurs among high achievers who are unable to internalize and accept their success. They often attribute their accomplishments to luck rather than to ability, and fear that others will eventually unmask them as a fraud - despite having adequate external evidence of accomplishments, people with imposter syndrome remained convinced that they don't deserve the success they have.

What Is Imposter Syndrome ?

Those with imposter syndrome are often well accomplished; they may hold high office or have numerous academic degrees.

How Common is Imposter Syndrome ?

Around 25 to 30 percent of high achievers may suffer from imposter syndrome. And around 70 percent of adults may experience imposterism at least once in their lifetime.

What Causes Imposter Syndrome ?

Personality traits – some believe imposter syndrome is driven by certain personality traits, such as perfectionism, self-efficacy and neuroticism.

Others believe it is our very culture that reinforces what is not a “syndrome” as much as a phenomenon.

What Causes Imposter Syndrome ?

- Race
- Gender
- Sexual orientation
- Age
- Religion

Perfectionism

Perfectionism

Perfectionism and imposter syndrome often go hand in hand.

Success is rarely satisfying because you always believe you could've done even better.

Perfectionism

Perfectionists set excessively high goals for themselves, and when they fail to reach a goal, they experience major self-doubt and worry about measuring up.

Adaptive Perfectionism

Perfectionism that is healthy and normal and relates to an intense effort that is put forth to achieve a certain goal. Adaptively perfectionistic individuals set high, but realistic standards, and don't resort to harsh self-criticism when these standards are not reached.

Maladaptive Perfectionism

In contrast, maladaptive perfectionism can be characterized by perfectionism that gets in the way of leading a successful and happy life. A need to be in control of every aspect of one's life and environment.

Is Your Perfectionism Out of Control ?

- A history of always wanting to please others
- Criticizing others' behavior
- Procrastinating on important tasks
- All or nothing thinking
- Always needing to be in control of emotions
- Closing yourself off to others
- Taking everything personally
- Becoming defensive when criticized
- Feeling guilty and ashamed for perceived failures

Superwoman/man

Superwoman/man

- Convinced you're a phony and everyone else is the "real deal" ?
- Push yourself to work harder to "measure up"?
- Are you the last to leave the office even after your work is completed ?
- Do you get stressed when not busy with work ?
- Have hobbies and passions been sacrificed to work ?

The Natural Genius

The Natural Genius

- The natural “genius” judges themselves by the ease and speed at which they accomplish a task.
- Were you a “straight A” student who excelled without much effort ?
- Do you reject the idea of a mentor ?
- Do you feel ashamed when faced with a setback ?

The Soloist

The Soloist

- Asking for help= phoniness
- Refuse assistance
- “I don’t need anyone’s help.”

The Expert

Do YOU Ever Feel Like This ?

1. I can trick people into thinking I know more than I do.
2. When I receive a compliment, I worry I won't live up to it.
3. I avoid having people critique or evaluate me.
4. Sometimes I think I gained my success simply because I was "in the right place at the right time."
5. I mostly remember my failures instead of my successes.
6. I rarely perform as well as I would like to.
7. Sometimes I feel I've achieved things in life by mistake.

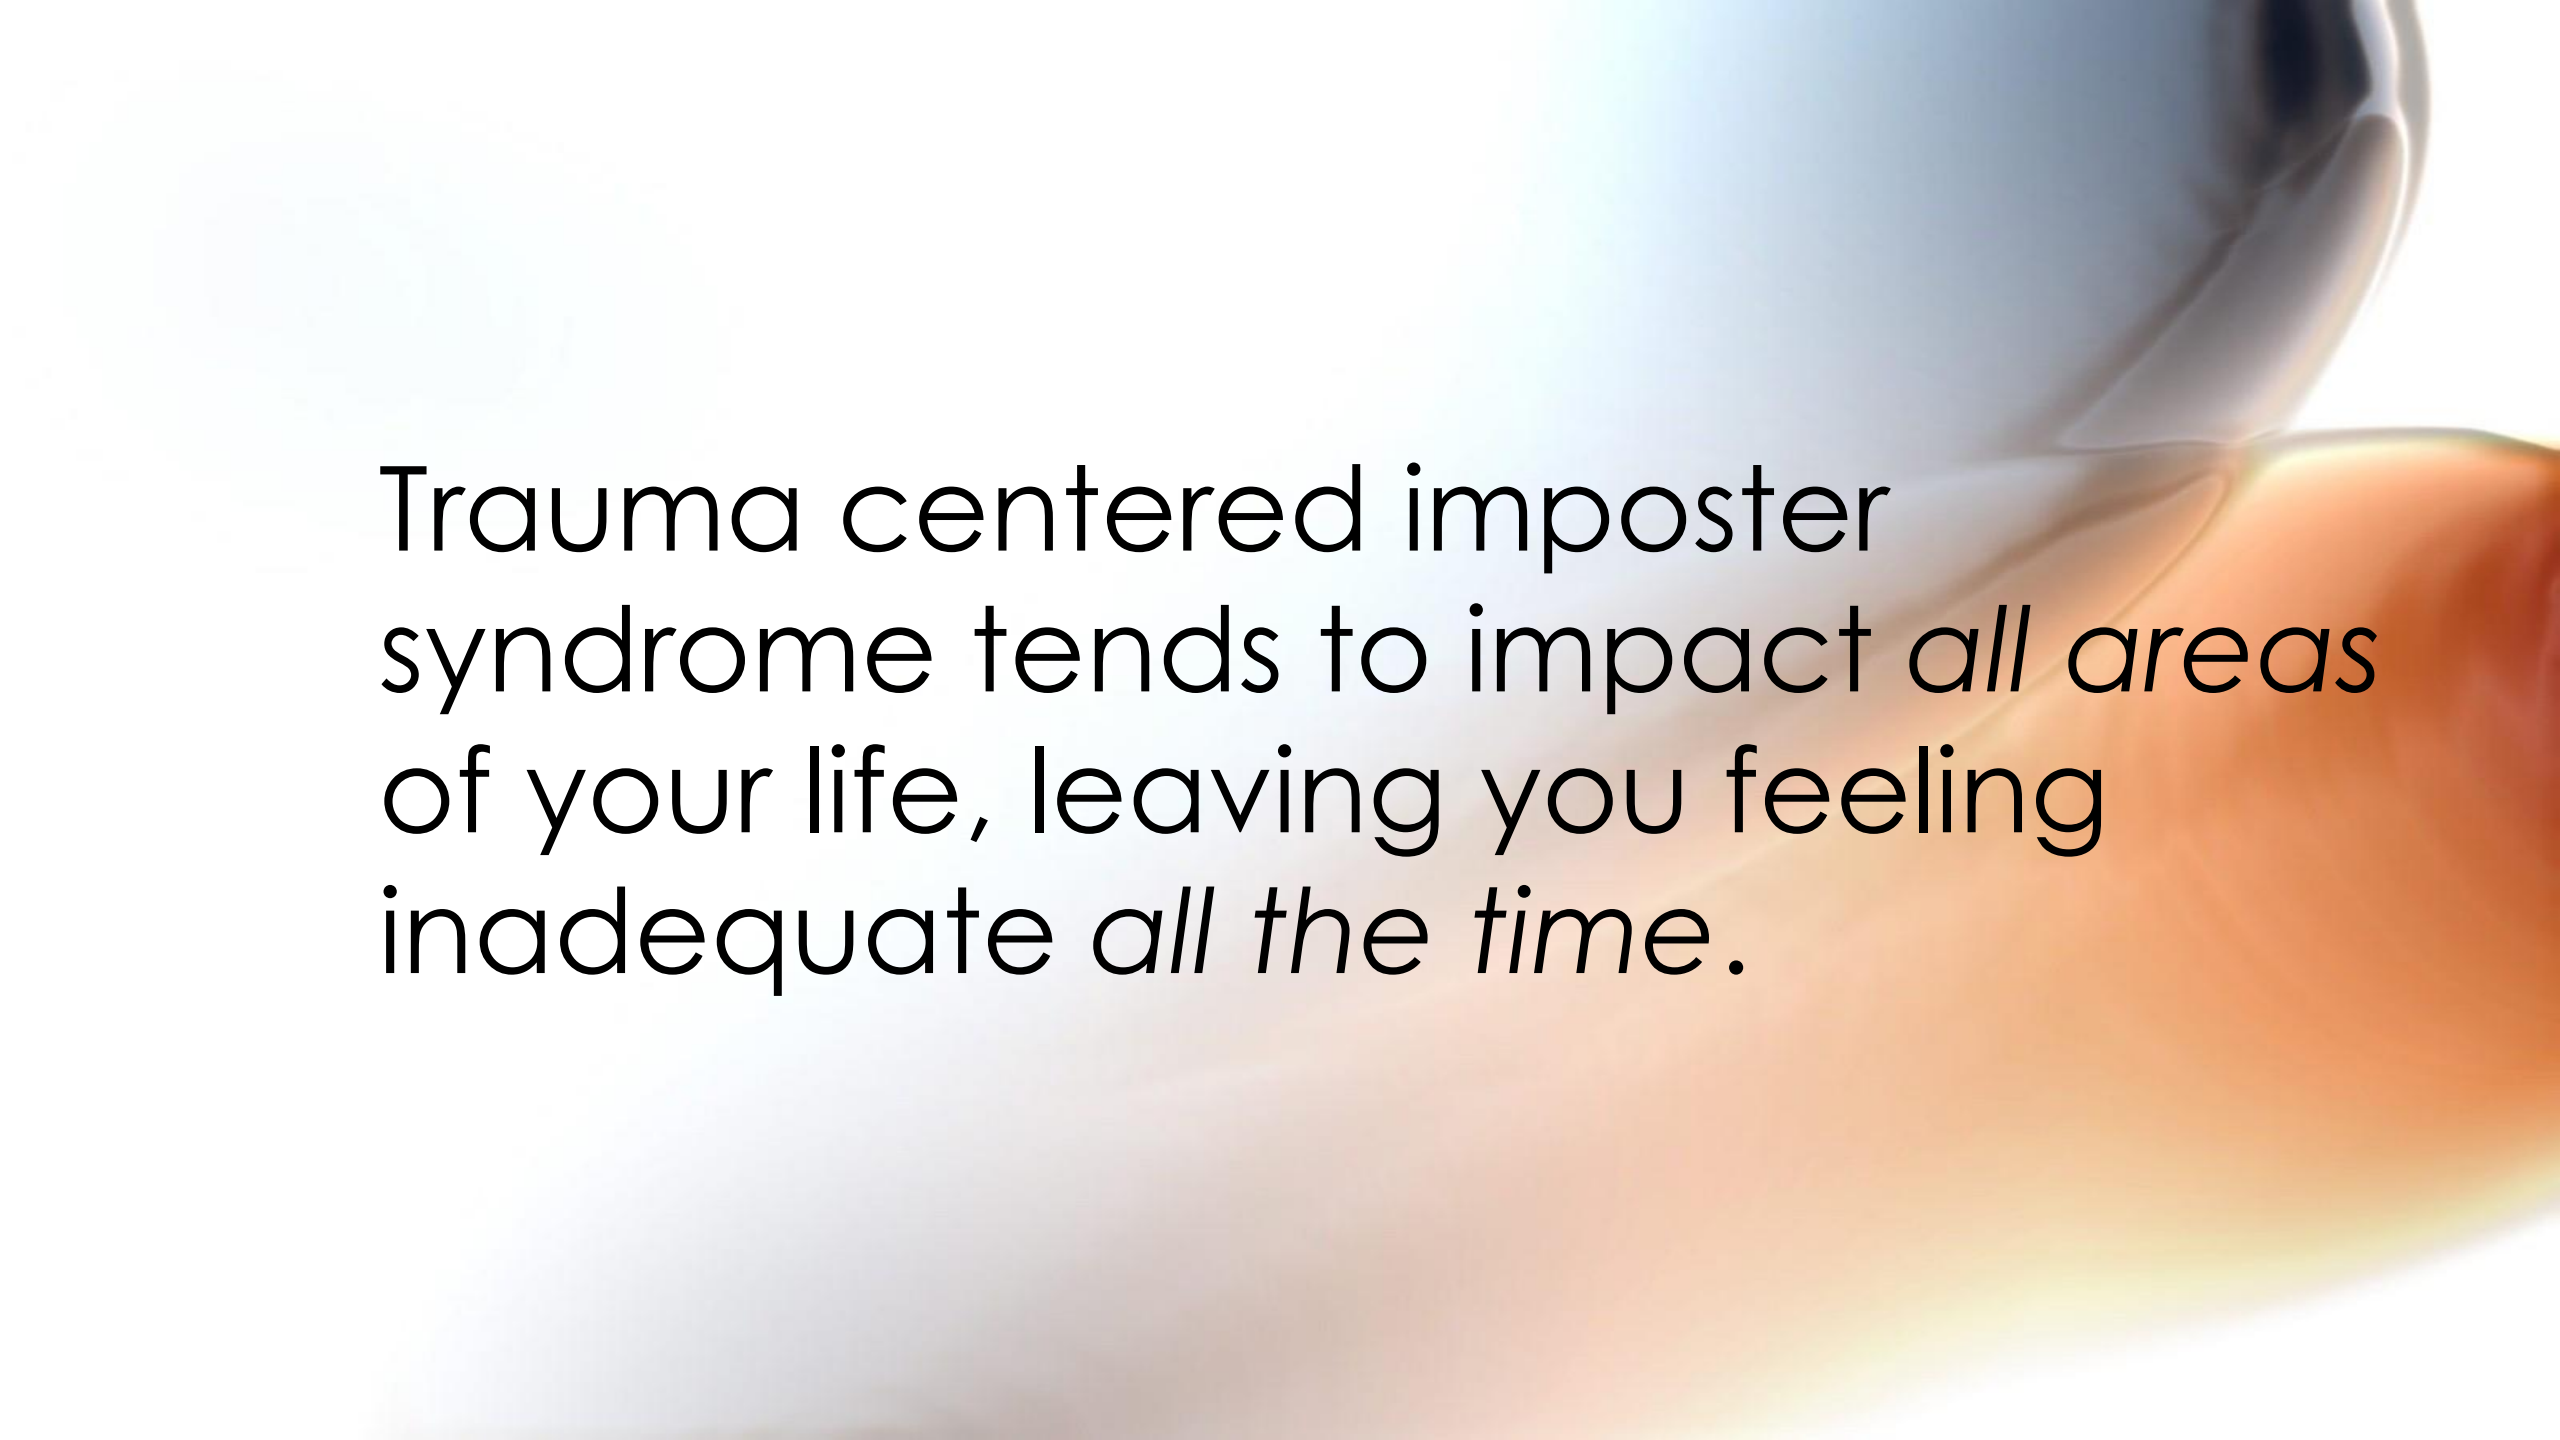

Do YOU Ever Feel Like This ?

8. It's difficult for me to accept compliments from others.
9. If I'm not recognized as the "best", I feel inferior.
10. I worry about succeeding even though I'm told that I am
11. I'm afraid to try new things because I'm afraid of failure even though I usually excel when I try a new skill.
12. I feel those around me are more competent and compare myself to their successes.
13. I rarely perform as well as I would like to.
14. I'm afraid of being "found out" as a fraud one day

Trauma-Centered Imposter Syndrome

For individuals experiencing trauma-centered imposter syndrome, there are two main differences compared with the more general type. General imposter syndrome is typically related to one aspect of your life i.e., work.

Trauma centered imposter syndrome tends to impact all areas of your life, leaving you feeling inadequate all the time.

Stress or Distress ?

- Some stress is healthy. Positive stressors can energize and motivate lawyers to be productive and creative problem solvers.
- A totally stress-free life is not only unrealistic, it can actually be a harmful form of denial.
- We need to eliminate distress. Distress is harmful both physically and psychologically.

Stress or Distress ?

- Gradual, incremental increases in responsibilities, duties, pressures and demands at home and work combined with long workdays and weeks is risky.
- We stay busy and “stuff” our feelings.
- Even relaxing can cause us to feel distress.
- We become unaware that we have lost balance in our lives.

BURNOUT

WHAT IS BURNOUT ?

- Constant anxiety
- Feeling overwhelmed
- Changes in personality
- Irritability
- Pessimism
- Obsessive thoughts
- Feelings of inadequacy and dread

WHAT IS BURNOUT ?

- Sleep disturbances
- Difficulty concentrating
- Fatigue
- Disengagement
- Depression
- Sense of helplessness
- Lost or diminished motivation
- Heart palpitations.

EFFECTS OF BURNOUT

- Less efficient
- Waste more time
- Self destructive tendencies
- Work quantity and quality declines
- Negative attitude towards those around you
- The feeling no one cares
- Unrelieved, may harden into a fixed element of your outlook
- Left unattended, can contribute to challenges to ethical duties, particularly communication and diligence

Why Lawyers ?

- Conflict driven and adversarial profession
- Emotional detachment
- Win-lose, often rigid thinking (black and white thinking)
- Perfectionism
- Excessive self-reliance

These traits are great for a successful career but not so great for mental health.

In other words...

Our personalities and our Profession put us at high risk.

So.....what are we going to do ?

Set Realistic Goals

Focus on things you CAN control

Lawyers already have control issues. As long as we're focusing on questions with unknowable answers and circumstances outside of our personal control, this strategy will get us nowhere other than drained, anxious and overwhelmed !

Develop Your Compassion Satisfaction

- Compassion satisfaction is the pleasure one derives from being able to do their work well as a helping professional

Human Connection and Service to Others

“SERVICE TO OTHERS
IS THE RENT YOU PAY
FOR YOUR ROOM
HERE ON EARTH.”

Muhammad Ali

Gratitude

- Improves sleep
- We become more centered on others/humility
- Memorialize for reflection
- Gratitude journal
- Positive state of mind
- Directly correlated with Happiness and Peace
- Builds resiliency
- Boost productivity

Give Yourself a Chance for Success !

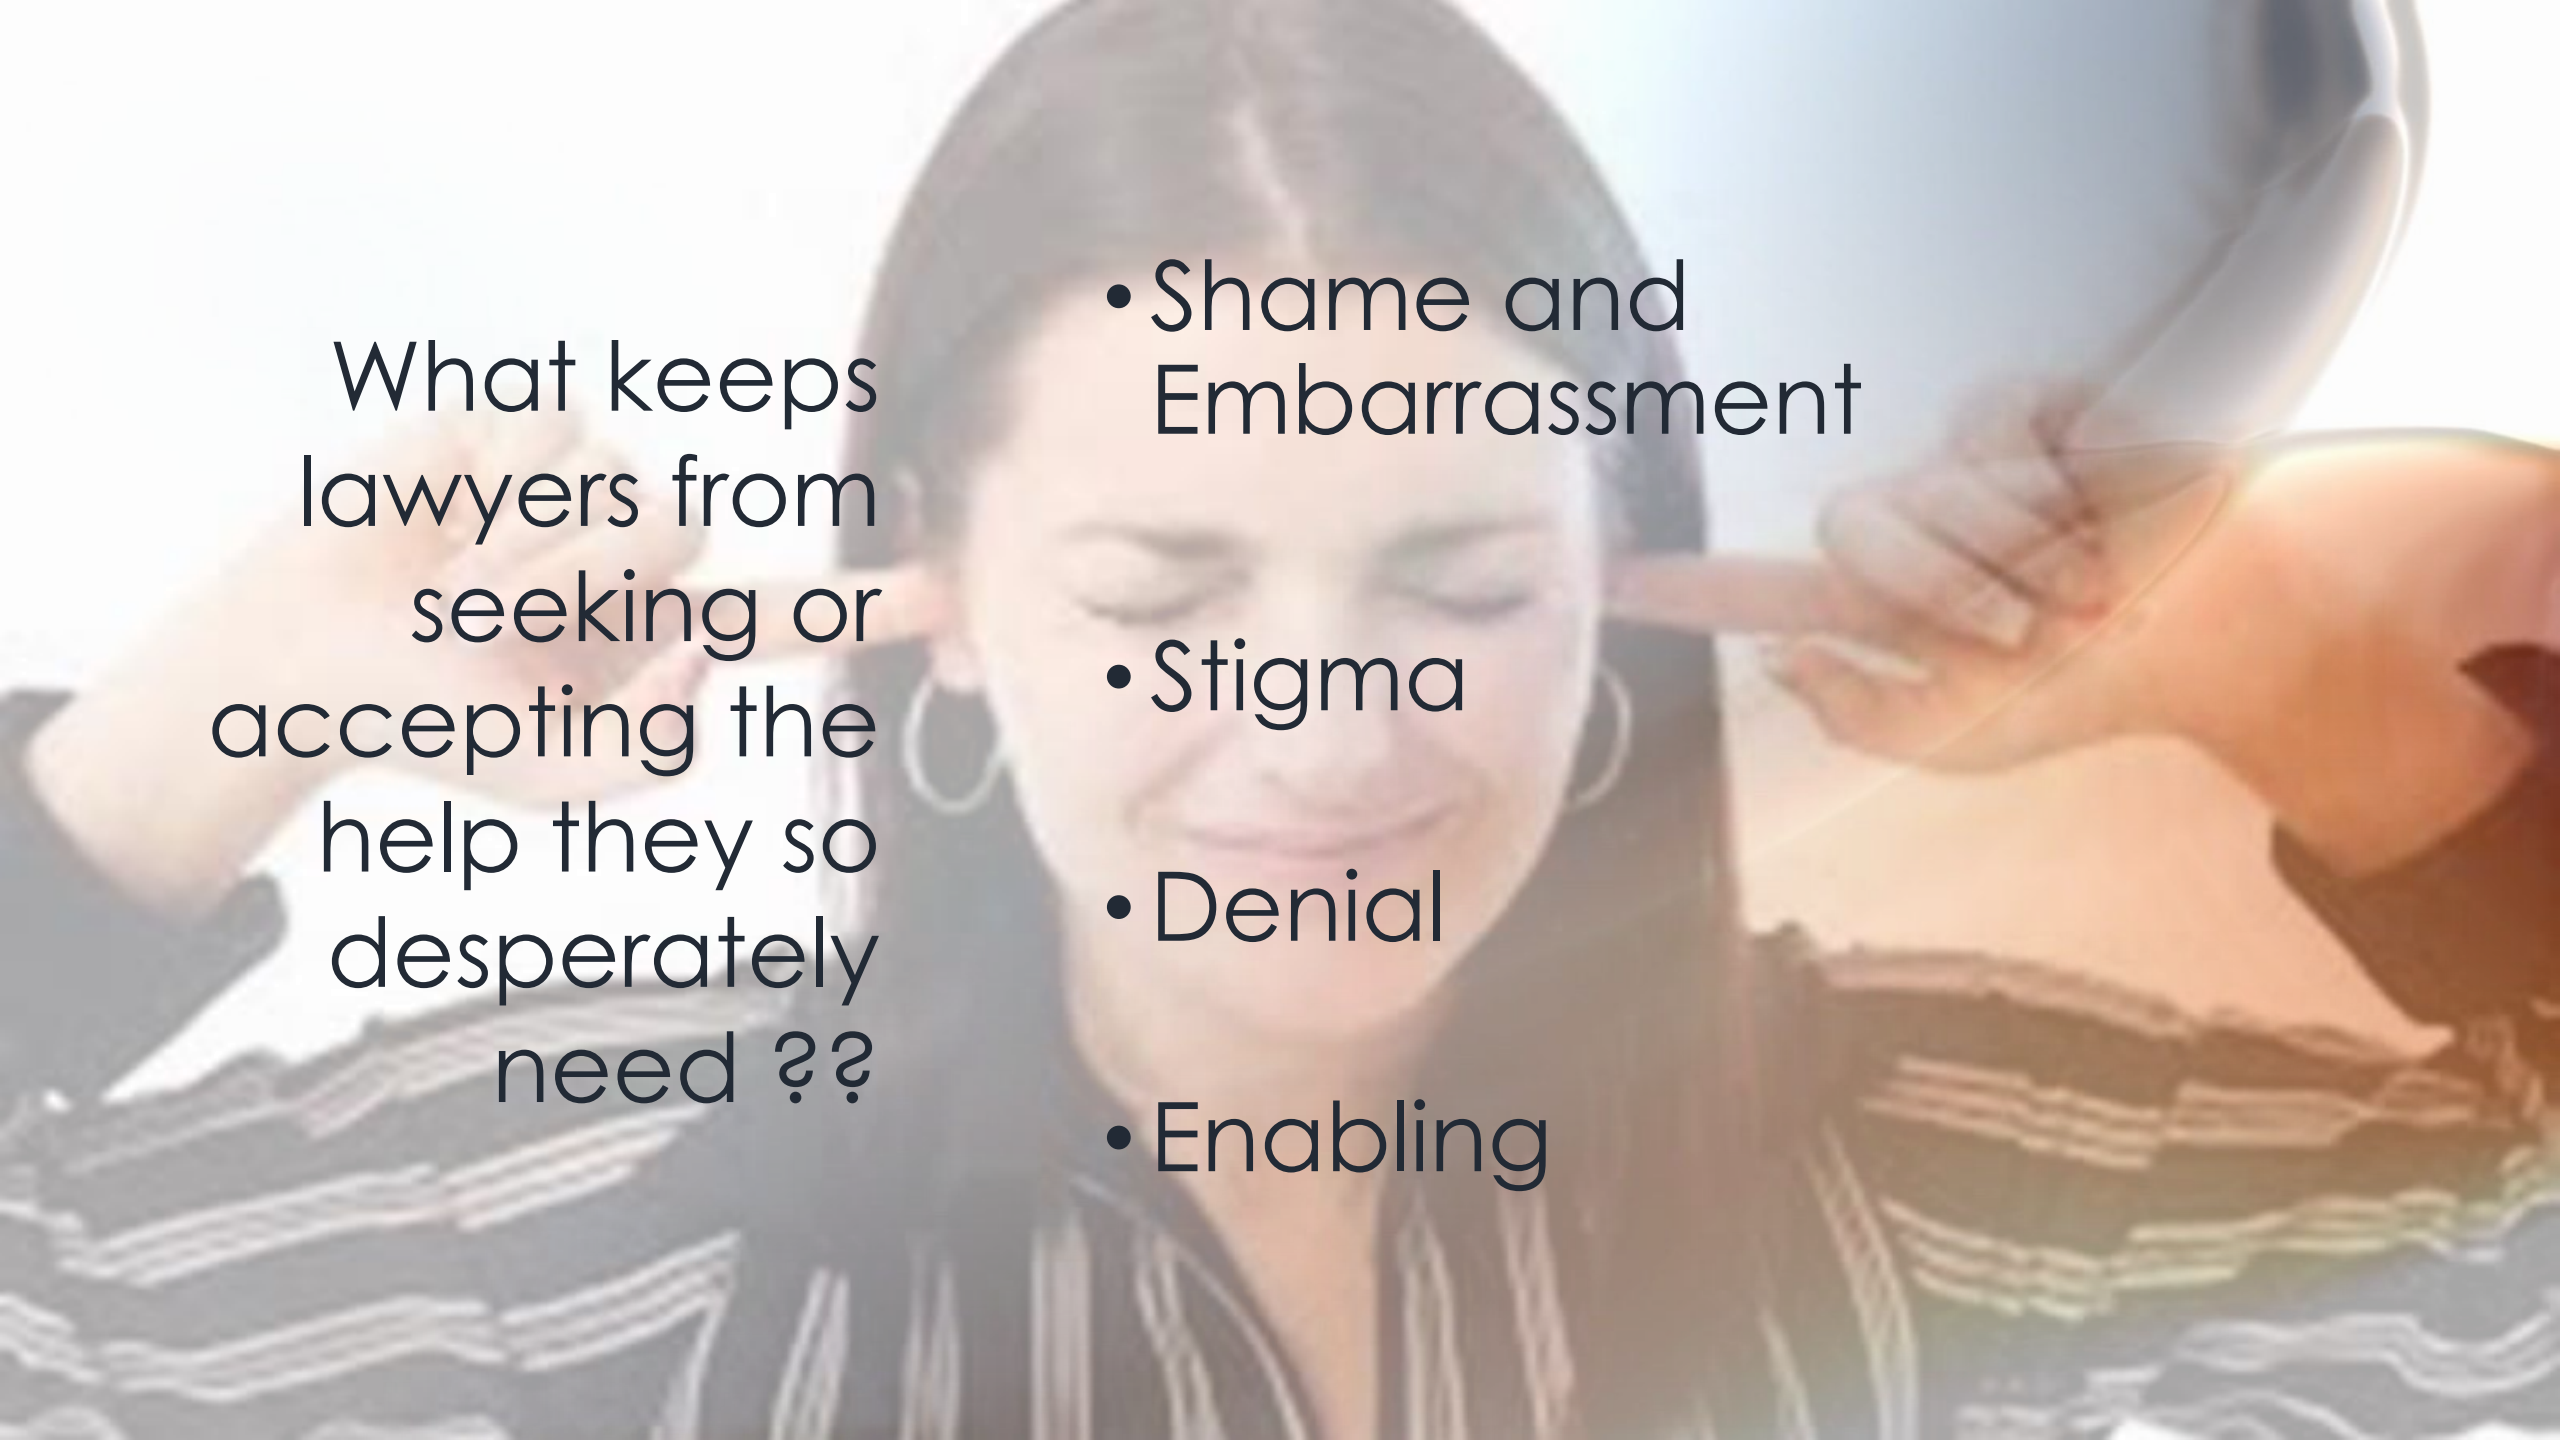

1. Don't isolate – break the silence
2. Separate feelings from fact
3. Accentuate the positive
4. Develop a healthy response to mistakes
5. Give yourself break- reward yourself !
6. Remember three letters – YET
7. “Surf the urge” to react
8. Build a strong support system
9. Look around
10. Fake it ‘til you make it

REMEMBER.....

True imposters
don't suffer from imposter syndrome !!

A woman with long dark hair and a pained expression, her eyes are closed. She is wearing a dark top with a light-colored pattern. A hand is visible on the right side of the frame, holding her shoulder or arm. The background is a soft, out-of-focus light blue and white.

What keeps lawyers from seeking or accepting the help they so desperately need ??

- Shame and Embarrassment
- Stigma
- Denial
- Enabling

Dealing with Denial

- The most potent barrier
- Psychological defense mechanism
- Rationalize and minimize behavior
- Honestly believe they are under control
- I'm not one of "them" mentality

THE CONSPIRACY OF SILENCE

- Lawyers are trained to deal with and solve problems. Thus, it is most difficult for the attorney to seek help since by doing so he feels he is admitting failure.
- Complicating this problem further is the tendency of the attorney's or judge's peers to indulge in a conspiracy of silence (enabling) and lighten the normal stresses of our profession.

What can YOU do ??

Although it is difficult, remember that your end goal is to help motivate the impaired lawyer or judge to seek professional help they so desperately need.

To Call LCL...or Not to Call

- I'm ok. I can work this out for myself.
- I want help but I don't want anyone to know.
- I already tried to get help and it didn't work.
- I don't have the money to pay for treatment.
- What will people say about me if I ask for help ?
- It's no use – nobody will understand – I give up !

To Call LCL...or Not to Call

- Is this really any of my business?
- I want to help but I don't want to get involved.
- Will I harm his/her or the firm's reputation?
- Must I report him or her to Discipline?
- I already tried to help and it didn't work.
- Let's wait and see. Maybe it will get better.
- I really don't have time for someone else's problems.

Never give up Hope.
